wandering

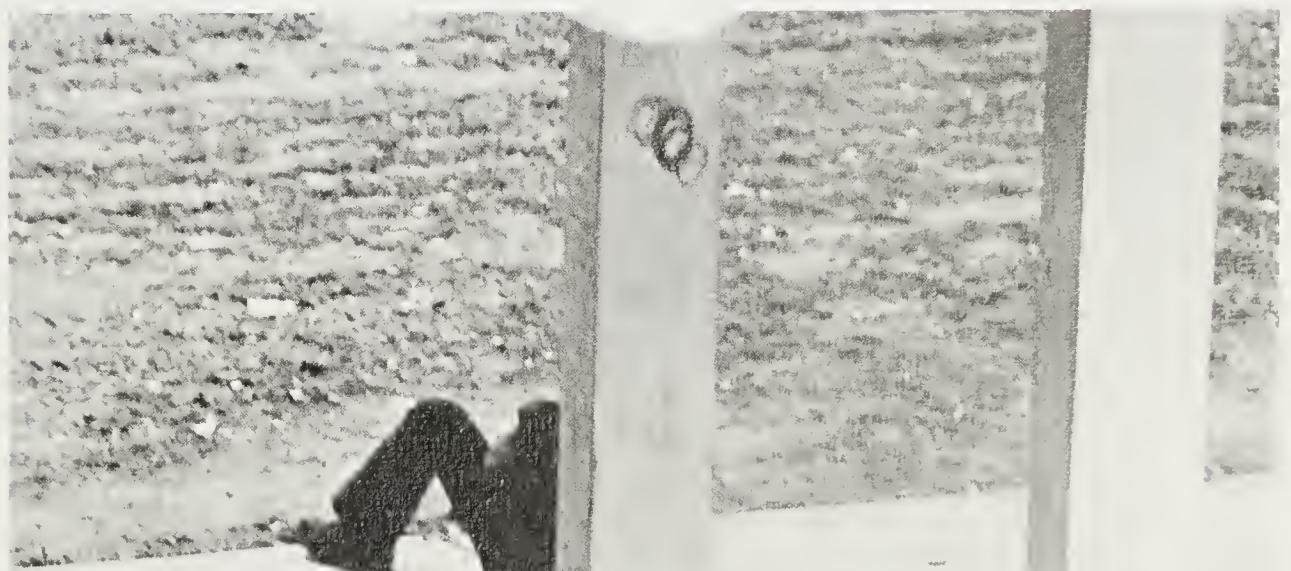

friends are tangents

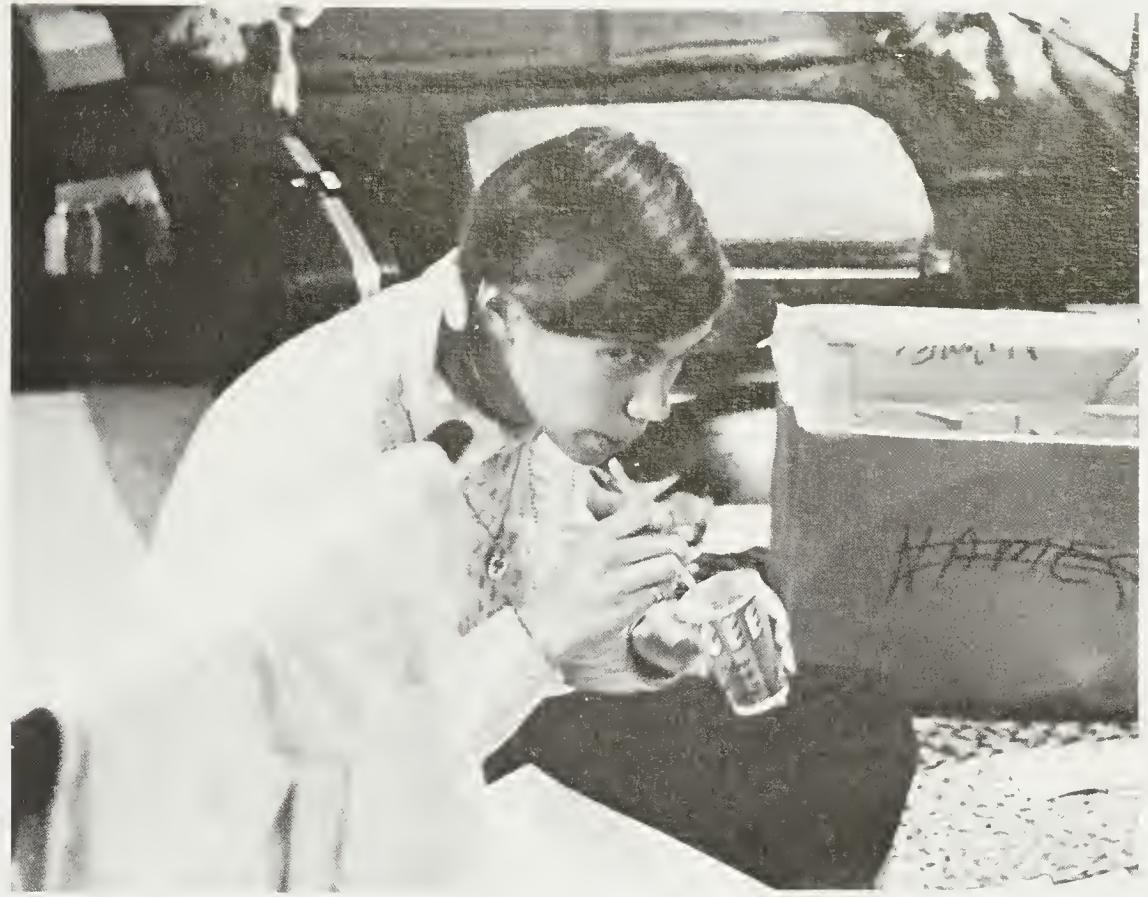

they come toward us

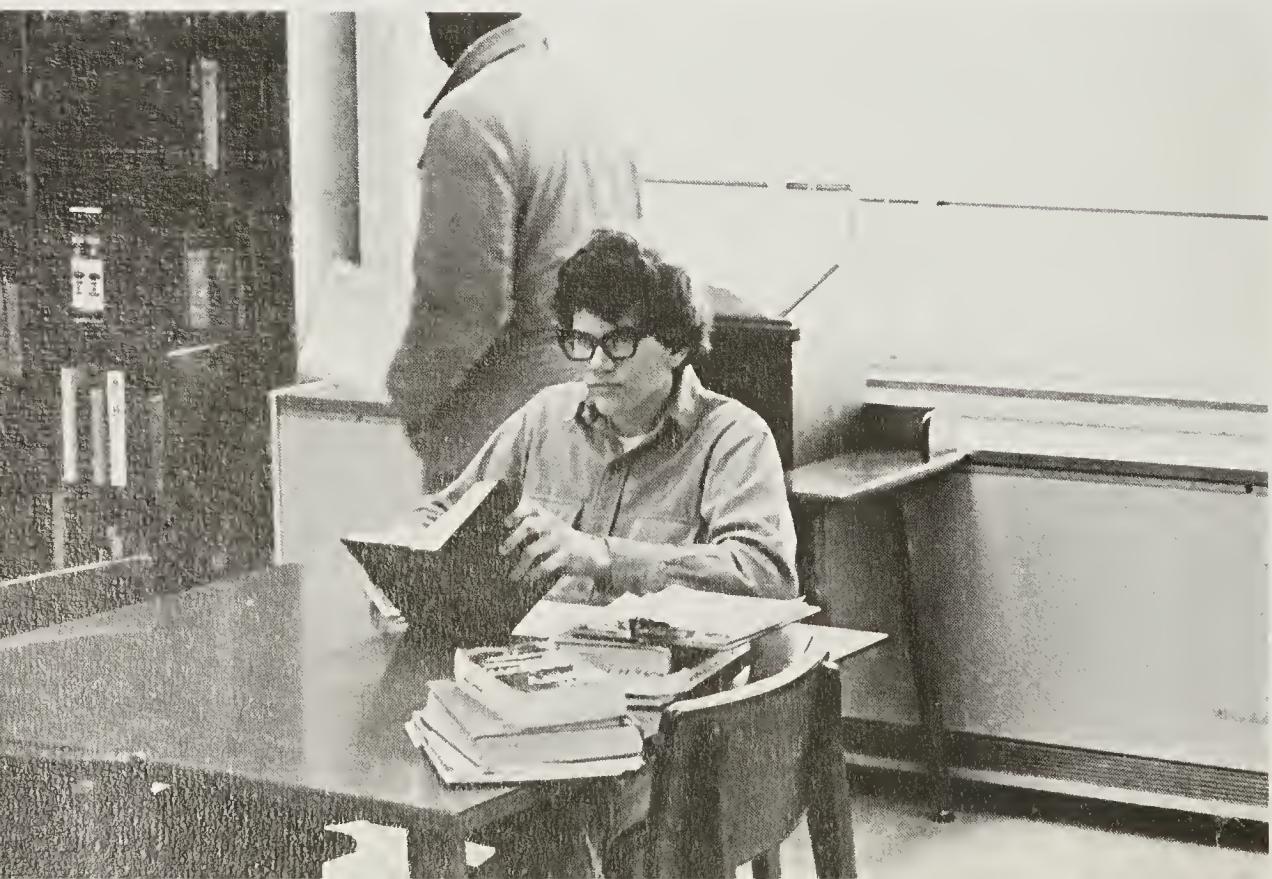

touch once

and move on

In this great and untidy world, it shall be your destiny to fight for light and hold on without knowing why.

TEMPO PRIMO

The New Negro strides upon the continent In seven-league boots . . .

The New Negro

Who sprang from the vigor-stout loins
Of Nat Turner, gallows-martyr for Freedom, Of Joseph Cinquez, Black Moses of the Amistad Mutiny,
Of Frederick Douglass, oracle of the Catholic Man,
Of Sojourner Truth, eye and ear of Lincoln's legions, Of Harriet Tubman, Saint Bernard of the Underground Railroad.

The New Negro

Breaks the icons of his detractors, Wipes out the conspiracy of silence, Speaks to his America . . .

TEMPO DI MARCIA

Out of abysses of Illiteracy, Through labyrinths of Lies,
Across wastelands of Disease . . .
We Advance!

Out of dead ends of Poverty,
Through wildernesses of Superstition, Across barricades of Jim Crowism . . .
We advance!
With the Peoples of the World . . .
We advance!

academics

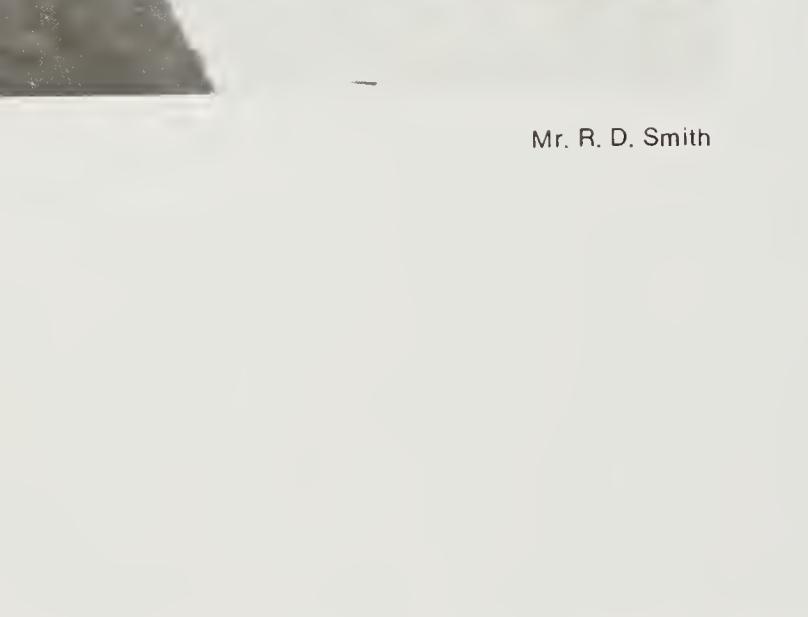

To bend
towards new ideas and still remain loyal to the present system.
To distinguish between important and unemployable facts.
To try to impart useful knowledge both to the vocational student and the college bound.
These are the demanding aims of the teacher.

activities

Amidst a contagion of apathy, student interest in clubs sparks—perhaps only momentarily, but it makes its mark for those involved.
A feeling of uselessness gnaws in the minds of many but yet,
somehow,
there is a desire for self-expression through group-expression.
Is it worth it all—the often frustrating hours wasted in needless argument and activity?
The rare,
satisfying knowledge that you and your club have made a difference answers that.

The spirit of wonder and adventure
and the token of immortality have been given to you as a child.
May you keep it forever,
with that in your heart which always seeks,
that gold beyond the rainbow, the pasture beyond the desert,
the dawn beyond the sea, and the light beyond the dark.

Juniors,

too old to go back.
No longer blissfully young,
but trapped,
not being old and wise . . .
A year of mixed ideals, a time to know yourself.
Questions about the future, the past . . .
Some leave, going on to seek better things for themselves.
Others linger behind, content to work and learn as simple middlemen.

the remaining words of wisdom flowed from the pens of various and sundry staff intellectuals and so the youth now student makes his appeal to the student to the teacher

to the administrator
    to the race
    to the plight
    to the dream

he looks for a way to communicate—
    a way to release himself from the innocent prison gates of adolescence

ultimately he struggles to become an individual
